“In a desolate, old eyeball factory in Mexico, three interesting characters live, embodying the proverbial principal: SEE no evil, HEAR no evil, and SPEAK no evil. During their break, they like to have a mini parade around the grounds and imagine an unassuming cat as a large crowd of cheering people. Orejon is in the purple pants and was born with a giant EAR for a head. He hears very well. Pushing the basket is El Oho. He’s a giant Groundhog with a human head and a giant EYE. He sees very well but has bad taste in hats. In the basket is Chismosa (gossiper). She’s a Space Alien with several mouths that are constantly moving but have nothing of value to say. Except, the largest one on her forehead always has some juicy stuff. On top of her head is her best friend and information source. A Spider called Teaves. She got her name from her ‘Eavesdrops and Tea.’ A unique local girl with a big NOSE on her chest named Narizona came by the Factory and asked if she could join them. They all laughed and said, ‘There’s no SMELL no evil!’ She started to cry and blew her nose thunderously. Suddenly, she smelled the odorless, deadly gas called Carbon Monoxide in the Eyeball factory! She immediately ordered everyone out, and they all ran. Sadly, a bug staggered out a few seconds after them and tragically died. They all gasped and placed the bug on top of ‘The Wall of Fallen Mayan Warriors.’ They then thanked Narizona for saving them. ‘SMELL No Evil’ is the newest, proud member of the Eyeball factory crew. This picture was taken the next day on their break at the crowded Proverbial Principle Parade.”

“Welcome to Watchy Eyes’s big Circus Magic Show! This life-sized Raggedy Andy doll got his name after some watches were stolen and sewn over his eyes by a child thief to conceal them. The watches were stolen from a witch who then placed a spell on them. Watchy Eyes came to life and murdered the child thief. Watchy was caught and sent to an insane asylum prison. He was released after his evil lawyer, Rudy Giuliani, argued that his watch eyes were defective and sued the watch company. Watchy won and then, without a trace, murdered Rudy! Watchy is rich now, but still sardonically wears his prison stripes every day. He bought a Magic Show Theater, and tonight is vampire night! Oh no, the mediocre magicians are being murdered by the vampires! Watchy tries to distract the crowd and yells, ‘Let’s give a hand to the Flying Monkey Sisters for cleaning up the blood and being great ushers tonight!’ The vampires and an alley cat all hiss and boo! Before ushering, the ushers were just evil little girls who enjoyed scaring and pranking everyone. Until one day, the Wicked Witch of the West was shopping at Dragon Toes Poisons when one of the little girls approached her with a bucket of feathers and asked if she had seen her chicken. Suddenly, behind her came her sister who threw hot black tar on her as the chicken question girl threw the feathers! The witch screamed until she realized it wasn’t water and laughed. Oh no, the tar burnt her favorite Witch Hat, and now she’s upset! Her Flying Monkeys grabbed the girls. They said in a grinning baby voice, ‘We’re So Sowwy.’ The witch replied, ‘You like to scare, huh? You’ll scare forever, ha, ha, haa!’ She mashed the girls into her monkeys in an eternal scaring pose. She soon realized she couldn’t stand their baby voices and sold them to Watchy. ‘Last up, it’s Big Tiny the Magnificent!’ (A Giant Little Person). Boos rang out as Big Tiny starts by balancing on a wood table that’s on top of a circus ball while holding a Mexican knock-off Barbie called ‘El Goth Barbie!’ The angry vampires start to hiss! Look, BigTiny has made El Goth Barbie come to life, and she’s starting to dance! Oh no, she’s very vulgar and is insulting the crowd! She yells, ‘Vampires, you like to suck, suck my Culo, AllyCat, you hungry...eat my Shit!’ Big Tiny is horrified and starts to cry, knowing he’s about to be murdered. Wait, the vampires are laughing hysterically, even the cat! BigTiny and Goth Barbie are a big hit! Watchy and his new cat sold out every show since.”

“That’s Lars, the senior executive and president of the FADNAT Fan Club! There’s 11 members and 2 undecided. Lars says he can’t get a real job because of the Fan Club responsibilities. His office and living quarters are on his Grandma’s couch. She kindly joined as a number bolstering member and is sadly the only female. Lars hoped he would meet girls that would join, but sadly, none have. He’s called for a big club meeting that starts soon to discuss the following. 1: FADNAT’s new paintings/drawings. 2: FADNAT characters you’d like to have a beer with. 3: A Strategy to squash the Rumor (Started by Grandma) that Banksy created a fictional Artist called Fadnat as a fun side project. It’s almost time! Grandma put out cookies and said, ‘Don’t make a mess, Pumpkin.’ Lars yelled for her to get out! Stoned and loaded with Mountain Dew, he is ready! Sadly, after three hours he realized no one was coming. Unless you’re counting his dog FADNAT who’s struggling to shake off his FADNAT ski mask. Wait, there’s a honk outside! Lars runs outside to find a car slowly rolling by. It’s FADNAT with some old lady! He runs out towards the car as it peels out and roars away with sounds of laughter and tumbling beer cans. Lars realized it wasn’t FADNAT, it was Grandma. He recognized her white hair poking out the eye holes and the car was owned by her friend Doris’ from the senior center. Lars is sad and needed consoling so he went to see one of his many girlfriends, his XBOX girlfriends. He popped in ‘The Witcher’ where he’s bedded all the women with his expert use of the save game function. The red head sorceress, Triss Merigold, is sweet and kind and what he needs now. After accomplishing a big missions with Triss, a nude love scene follows. Lars has written to the game maker for more graphic love scenes, but to no avail. He is done with medieval women for now and is ready for a galactic woman. He pops in a game called, Mass Effect 2. He’s bedded every woman here too and his favorite is Miranda. She is genetically engineered to have super intellect and a perfect body. Lars the Playa jokes, ‘It’s a different galaxy, so it ain’t cheating’ as he grins, then coughs smoke after a rip from his bong. He’s completed the mission and his game character and Miranda start making comically mechanical love as 5 members of the FADNAT FanClub show up. One yelled, ‘Hey, Miranda’s my Girl!’ They all started slap fighting over their Xbox girlfriends until a giant space monster appeared! Like warriors, their focus turned to the game and they defeated it! After all is good and the meeting went on.”

“Soon, everyone will be voting between Pope the Bear and a Blue Devil for Town Pope. Pope got his name after frequently defecating on a man’s cabin porch until he eventually adopted him. The illiterate Cabin Man called him ‘Poop,’ but he couldn’t spell it. The Blue Devils are bribing the local priest and the Ape Belly Nun Sorceress with bananas and a Golden Monkey Cat Music Box, meant for ‘King Gorillatan.’ King was raised by orange orangutans, whom he eventually murdered over snarky, dark hair remarks. Everyone was afraid of him, so they made him King. He dyes his hair orange now and tells everybody he’s an orangutan with his fresh banana breath and music. The Blue Devils are cheating because the King has a lot of influence on the people who will vote.

In a nearby cave lived Pope. He goes to church every Sunday, except during hibernation. Owlga the Owl plays the audio bible in his cave for him during that. People say Owlga looks exactly like Pope’s nose. At rallies, Pope says, ‘I’ll BEAR my soul to you!’ The crowd laughs. At an event, Goth Guy overheard the bribe and told Pope. Goth Guy loves to gossip and hates water. He wears a life preserver to be fashionably ironic. Pope called his friend, Dark Orphan Annie, to help. After her work on Broadway, she and her sister, Dolla, flew over on her giant bug named Sassy. Oh no, a giant fish has leapt from the water and is about to swallow Sassy’s head! No doubt, this is the work of the Nun Sorceress. Dark Annie started smacking the fish with her sister’s doll body as a weapon and killed it! Years back, Dolla was drunk and camping, and was dared to make out with a bear. She found a bear sleeping in a cave and started when its bear family woke up! They started eating Dolla until Dark Annie ran in and stopped them at her neck. Pope was one of the bears and apologized to Dolla’s leftover head. Suddenly, one of the many fluttering cave bats turned into a vampire and offered to help. Vampire attached Dolla’s head to her support doll that she took everywhere. Dolla survived. They all became friends that day, bringing us to now.

DarkAnnie called Vampire to set a “Permanent Surprise Face” spell on Blue Devil. She’ll have to sleep with him for it to happen, so she flirtatiously rubs his head. After that, Vampire seduces Nun Sorceress to distract her so he can set the spell. It worked; the Blue Devil looks insane! Bear Pope wins and at his speech said, ‘I BEARly won!’ Everyone laughed, even the banana bribing Blue Devil! Giant Bug Sassy grabbed her arm and included her in the celebration, to the surprised face of the loser.”

“The giant Circle Heads are members of a traveling circus. They’ve come full circle around the country for their big final show. They’ve missed their loved ones and are excited for the big circus family photo, even Grouchy Owl and Peggy Pig! They are a hermaphrodite comedy couple who share a body. Crowds love their banter. He complains about her lousy cooking, and she about his performance in the bedroom. No one ever tried to date either of them, so they found each other. Thankfully, they are hermaphrodites and were able to produce their lovely daughter, Owlaina. She has Peggy’s snout, Owl-colored hair, and bug eyes! Grouchy always found her eyes odd and didn’t know he was shooting blanks. He asked Peggy about it, and she said, ‘Maybe you ate a bug that day.’ Turns out, one night as he slept, a Romantic Bug seduced Peggy! They were going hot, and he climaxed just before Peggy crushed him. RIP Owlaina’s real father. Some even say you can see him in the clouds. Peggy is taking this secret to the grave.

Blue Scully, the great Necromancer, is here. In her act, she brings a two-headed doll in a white-collared yellow dress to life. Their stage names are ‘Buttons and Ghostly.’ She makes it dance with someone in the crowd to big cheers. Below her is her mom, embarrassingly wearing the same yellow dress as Buttons and Ghostly. Mom, also a Necromancer, brought to life the next big performer-Dolly the Giant Doll Clown! She draws the most crowds. Before the big photo, Dolly’s boyfriend, Rough Leon, said she needed a more urban look and took her to a hair salon in his neighborhood. It looks great! As they were leaving, a very old man said, ‘Oooh Weee, I’d play with dat Doll all night!’ Dolly blushed as Leon beat him up. They then got a motel room. Dolly was sad when he dropped her off because he had errands (wife) and wouldn’t be with her in the circus family photo. ‘Surprise!’ It’s Dolly’s daughter, Pig Body Raggedy Ann! She’s here with her boyfriend, Carny. He was formerly the CircusGeek. He’d always break out of his cage. The head Carny thought he must be smart and promoted him to ring toss and ride safety. He grunted it was time for the big photo. ‘Say Cheese!’ The picture was taken, but wait, they’ll have to do it again because Carny had his booze out and he was fondling Pig Body. Oh no, that was the last of the film! This was the only photo they took that day. They all agreed it was perfect and laughed.”

“The Day of the Dead Green Witch is very upset. The loud Vampire sisters are having a Day of the Dead party across the street and didn’t invite her! She doesn’t care that they are high-schoolers and she’s in her 40’s. The Green Witch sadly remembers her high school days and how the mean kids would call her, ‘Day of the Green Bitch!’ She then giggles and goes to her closet to grab her Day of the Dead Gossip Catching Hat. (She does this every time they have a party) The Toothy Red Mouth on the earflap of this magic headdress relays all the juicy gossip. It’s working! Greya the Vampire is the sweet younger sister. She says she feels fat, so is going to wear her baggy, green MooMoo that she always wears. The mean kids rudely ‘moo’ at her at school. Greya has a crush on a cute boy named, Yanik Scully. He’s coming to the party! He’s 18 and very mature. The mean kids call him, ‘You Suck’. She told him she likes his bony toes, so he’s worn sandals ever since. Vampire Gina is the older sister. She’s fun, outgoing, and very protective of her baby sister. The mean kids call her, ‘Vagina’. Gina mockingly made a dress that is an exact copy of Green Witch’s Gossip Hat’s ear flap. She smiles and winks at the colorful mushroom shaped hat in the window across the street. He then ducked out of view! The party is going great! Oh no, Sheepy Pixie has shown up to the party and she likes Yanik too! She’s looking very cute in her sheep sweater with a black frilly collar. Vampire Gina rushes over to her and says the party is full. Sheepy looked over her shoulder and saw Yanik. She then blew Sheepy’s pixie dust into Vampire Gina’s face! Gina is now immersed in a sparkly hallucination of a loving lamb’s embrace. Sheepy rushes past her, but it’s too late. Yanik and Greya just made out and are holding hands. Green Witch gasps from her window, spilling her popcorn. Sheepy ran off in tears! Greya and Gina are happy and waved to Green Witch to come over. She does and they’re all drinking and dancing. Oh no, Green Witch is drunk and slurringly tells Yanik he’s got cute toes! They started making out! The Vampire sisters attacked Green Witch and drained her blood. Drunken Yanik was turned on by this and suggested a threesome. The Sisters drunkenly agreed. Oh no, the GreenWitch’s blood is poisonous! The VampireSisters died right before the threesome! Poor, sad Yanik walked with his head slumped, looking at his cute toes, all the way to Sheepy Pixie’s house.”

“That’s Janis with the blue eyes and long red hair. She’s staying with her folks during the Covid quarantine. She stops by her old high school and is flooded with memories of her two best friends. They were both half-robots with some mutations. They were fun but boy crazy. Tina, in the center with the gorilla arms hairdo, was in love with the school basketball star named Johnny Big Eyes. He was really cool in his letterman jacket and always wore socks with sandals. He was a spacealien with a crabby, old fisherman on one side of his face, and a killerfish on the other. His Fisherman would always complain, ‘You’ve shaved my beard and taken my pipe, you’ll probably cut my dick off next!’ Johnny reminded the old fisherman that he hasn’t a dick and he’s wearing his shitty fishing duck beak hat. Tina and Johnny started dating, which angered the 3rd friend, Reba. Reba thought since she had an Alien on her face and a baby arm neck, Johnny would be with her. She wanted him, so she went to the Salon and asked for the gorilla arms hairdo, but they were all out. Luckily, they still had the vinyl record do! Reba cleans the salon mirror she just broke after the gorilla news and agrees on vinyl. After purchasing the vinyl cleaner, she still felt like she needed more to win Johnny. She went to Dracula to make her irresistible. Dracula agrees and was about to bite her neck. ‘Ewww, get away from me, old man,’ she screamed. Dracula was insulted and then sad. He gave her a blood capsule and asked her to leave so he could cry. The red hair witch and her tiny doll, felt Dracula’s pain and used a spell to make Tina’s baby arm neck make lewd gestures as she was professed her love to Johnny. All the kids had gathered and laughed. Johnny freaked out and ran away as the fading voice of the old fisherman said, ‘I like the hexed baby arm, you shou...’ Reba also ran away crying while wrestling with her strong baby arm neck in the rain. Everyone was gossiping in the hallways, even the hybrid red alpacas. Johnny was having a mental breakdown. He went to Tina for support, but she electrically shorted-out in the rain. He broke up with her that day. Janis smiles as she remembers that day. She went and consoled Johnny after all that and they’ve been together ever since. They’re married now and it’s going good. The only arguments they ever have are with the old fisherman. They live in Los Angeles now where she’s a mom and He’s an Artist called FADNAT.”

“Mel the Mobster and his wife, Stix, are out to a traditional Indian lunch. She was named Stix after a rival gang kidnapped her and fed her to a starving camel that only left her skeleton. She was brought back to life by Mel’s personal musician magician. a centaur playing buddhist child, whose hand is the god of bones. Mel’s rivals deny it was them and say is was a skin wearing serial killer named, Camel Bill. Mel didn’t believe them and sent his crew to the hookah lounge where they hang out. They quickly doused the place with accelerants. Then sped 2 vans to block both exits and ignited the building. They were burnt alive. Stix looks great now in her mexican warrior artifact and orange/green poodle hairdo. Their daughter Lizzy is a shy, green, 12yr old with bright red hair and a wild, boy crazy lizard on 1/2 her face. Lizard side is a bad influence, always encouraging Lizzy to sneak out late to go see a Korean alien boy pop star. Both sides of Lizzy are obviously in love because they wore their favorite striped top, vintage dress and cute metal black hat. Mel likes this outdoor restaurant in the country because he’s laying low for a while. Mob Mel has a girlfriend named Cami, that Stix doesn’t want to know anything about. She is a young beauty who runs a camel rescue. They just seized a rare white elephant from a sex cult, shown bottom left, still in wearing his ‘S’ and ‘M’ outfit. They also rescued the fat camel that ate Stix’s flesh, look, that’s him behind Camy! Stix is rumored to be dating the cousin of her ancient artifact hairdo, except these are bones of an antient mexican warrior. Their love sounds like a plastic wind chime on a windy day. Mob Mel has to be three different men for the girls in his life. (3 faces shown) The 4th is his girlfriend Cami’s mom, who is shown being told that her daughter is dating a mobster. Simultaneously, Mel is seeing his rival’s top 2 hitmen approaching with guns pointing at him. Mom and Mel share an Eye and of surprise. At the funeral Stix and mexican warrior bones consoles Lizzy, who had mixed emotions because Korean pop star heard the tragic story and is going to meet Lizzie for publici....I meant console her after a tragic event. Girlfriend Camy was there too and seems to have moved on. She was with her new, tall, handsome man she introduced as Camel Bill.”

“That’s the great landscape artist Jose in the bottom right. He’s an artist, so please don’t call him the gardener. Everyone loves his little fence and tree hats he made for his business, and it’s been good. Privately, he’s bored and lonely, so he made a giant hand puppet. It’s of a TV star from back home in Mexico called Mayan Mama. He got every detail, including her witch doctor coat and golden voodoo brooch. He wiggled her to dance, and suddenly, the brooch got very bright. Wow! She started to sing, and her coat plays the trumpet! ‘My puppets are magic!’ They danced together as Jose thought of making himself a girlfriend. He went to Goodwill and found a giant Barbie doll called ‘Barbie’s Artsy Friend.’ Her neck was broken and replaced with a tiny metal funnel. Jose started wishing, and voodoo brooch lit up again, and Artsy came to life. She instantly started talking about foreign films. Mayan Mama started singing again, and they all danced Salsa. Jose was in love. As time passed, Mama and Artsy did girl things together. Jose wanted a buddy to drink and watch soccer with. He looked over to his favorite childhood toy his Papa gave him. It’s a wooden nut cracker soldier he called Nutty. He waived Voodoo over Nutty, and it worked! He’s very militant, strict, and overly willing to crack any nuts. He loosened up after a few beers. During the game, Nutty started making crude ‘Wood’ jokes. Oh no, he’s drunk! He staggered over to Jose and kicked him in the balls and yelled, ‘I’m Nutty Nut Cracker!’ Artsy yelled at Nutty, and he collapsed into an awkward, wooden attempt at the fetal position and sobbed about his strict military life. The next morning, hungover Nutty apologized and never drank again. Artsy now wanted a giant hand puppet too. Nearby, a local cult called ‘THE FADNAT’ was busted for mind control art, and their leader was hauled away, yelling, ‘La Luz De Jesus Gallery is in Wacko!’ Artsy went through their trash and found giant, broken, doll body parts. Today they’re at the park, and Jose is putting the parts together the best he could. She looks insane, so he added his landscaping business hat. Voodoo worked again! She’s named Jinx. She started to violently hiss! She’s upset about her pink tutu and screamed, ‘All hail FADNAT!’ Militant Nutty found her enchanting. He took Jinx’s handless arm and said to her that she was beautiful. She spun her demon head and awkwardly smiled. Nutty didn’t mind she was Satan cause he was in love. This moment is captured here as Mayan Mama started to sing and trumpet as they all danced.”

“Sonia decided to take her dog Barney to the park. They were canoodling on a bench when a frisbee hit her in the head! A wizard in the distance gasped and quickly ran off into the forest. The wizard was aiming for his dog and trying out a spell laced frisbee to help his dog win the big frisbee catching tournament this weekend. Sonia groggily got up and went home and took a nap with Barney. She wakes an hour later and screams, ‘OH GOD!’ Sonia and Barney are now, one! That wizard is terrible at frisbee and spells! After crying for a few hours, they calmed down and realize they can communicate with each other. They learned to compromise and she would decide their outfits and he could pick their new hairstyle. Barney loves surf movies so he picked a cali-surfer-perm. He would, from now on, like to be called Moon Doggy. Sonia’s new behaviors were tough on her young son, Billy. Like at the market, she sniffs, then pees on produce. She smells other customer’s butts, and she snarls at him to put candy back. She even makes her chubby, little Billy wear a greyhound hat to remind him to run and get plenty of exercise! He’s fed up and retrieved that wizard’s frisbee. Billy took it to the World Champ of frisbee- ‘Rick Flicker.’ He wanted him to fire off frisbee at his Mom’s head at the Big Tournament. After negotiation, Rick agreed to $10. The big day has arrived, and the tourney is going great! Sonia and Moon Doggy are in the front enjoying the show. Although, spectators around them are not because Moon Doggy just took a dump. Thankfully, Sonia brought bags and is pick it up. Oh no, Rick Flicker is drunk and just fired of a 100mph frisbee towards her! He yelled, ‘Oops, it slipped’ then grinned and counted his 10 bills. It’s going to hit her in the side of the head! After the embarrassment of just shitting, Moon Doggy with the confidence of his new civilized surfer-perm, fought the urge of catching the frisbee in his mouth and caught it with his paw! Billy screamed, ‘No!’ Until the crowd went wild and Chubby Billy realized they just won the $1,000 first prize! Hurray! With their new fame they took this show on the road and hired Drunk Rick at his $10 rate. I guess that wizard wasn’t that bad after all.”

“Welcome to El FADNAT Ranch! It’s run by an old cow gal named, ‘El Fuego!’ She holds every bull riding record in Mexico! She was brave and wild. Only wearing a thong and her trademark belly shirt in competitions. Even today, her fancy El Fuego dress has the belly exposed to show off the tattoo of her only daughter, Maddy. That’s her, El MattyMatador below her. She’s not a real Matador, but loves ranch life and bulls. She may be short in stature, but tall in hard work. She travels all over the world to see bullfights. As the daughter of El Fuego, she’s granted exclusive access to the events and brings the Matador a very special meal before their big fight. The Matador then finds himself violently ill and Dies suffering. During the commotion, Maddy steals all their prized bulls and brings them back to the El FADNAT Ranch and Bull Sanctuary. Mama Fuego is proud of her for defending the bulls and is why she still wears belly shirts. Fuego’s also proud of her weird son, Naked Barney. He’s always naked and never leaves the barn, but does a great job tending to the bulls. (Rumored to be FADNAT) Weirder than Barney, is the green human-likeman they’ve seen hiding around the last few months. He’s dressed like a cowboy. He,s coming over here now! He’s wearing a stolen FADNAT Ranch Hat, with an Adidas track top with an exposed belly-tattoo of his Daughter! His wobbly daughter arrives below him. She peculiarly wore her jeans to her neck. She then, dozily said she’s an astronaut and struggled to put her hand on Maddy’s shoulder to stand upright. The green man held her up by her arm and said, ‘I’m Froggy and this here, is my daughter, Spacy.’ El Fuego yelled, ‘You’re an alien, I’ve seen you in the bushes, studying us! All humans don’t have belly tattoos of our daughters!’ The alien fest up. He said he’s named Franky. His planet studied Earth Frankensteins because their people resembled them and hoped there’d be some nearby in order to assimilate themselves to Earth. He said desperately, his daughter is a robot and is running out of energy. He’s planted these fast growing, purple bubble energy trees, but needs a convertor or she’ll self destruct! ‘Naked Barney has one!’ Alien Franky ran to the barn, covered his eyes and asked. He had it and it worked! Spacy is charged up! Just one of those tree bubbles supports the whole town for a year! Franky called his buddies to help grow more and they’ve replaced oil! As they celebrated, Franky, with no concept of aging on his planet, thinks El Fuego is hot and they rush to the barn to Bang. Naked Barney is disgusted and finally leaves the barn. Thanks to ZOOM, Barney can stay naked while running the wealthiest company in the world, FADNAT ENERGY!”

“Connie Catfish was just chased by the Piranha Ghost Gang! Luckily, she escaped. Lately, these hooligans have been terrorizing her and her family. They say, ‘Cats are the enemy of fish, so all catfish are an abomination and must die!’ She knew she had to call a fellow Sea Cat, her ex-boyfriend called ‘Smoky the Seahorse Monkey Cat.’ Smoky was conceived in the 80s when Dr. Frankenstein was hired to create a fun sidekick for the Marlboro Man. It was him to help launch their new underwater cigarettes. Dr. Frankenstein decided on combining a masculine land horse and seahorse to appeal to men. Then adding a cute cat with a fun little cowboy hat for the ladies. A great marketing idea! The big Franken operation is underway. Oh no, a GrinderMonkey has escaped from a neighboring lab! It’s being tested for meth tolerance and tore out of its cage! It jumped onto the operating table just at the moment the transformation was occurring! Then a blast, and everyone is thrown back! As the smoke clears, they are astonished when Meth Grinder Monkey is mashed up with the other two. The Marlboro Man said, ‘That thing looks sissy, especially with that little hat.’ Smoky’s Meth Monkey side took offense and stabbed the Marlboro Man. This, along with pushback from the Ocean Preservation Society, ended the underwater cigarette campaign. Smokey and the cigarettes were discarded. They were taken in, for a fee, by an organization called Noah’s Bark. They save pets that jump off of leisure boats and did this as a favor to Marlboro. Oh no, it’s a stormy night! Smoky and the Cigarettes have slid off the boat! Luckily, the seahorse gene allows Smoky to breathe underwater. Sea survival is tough, and they’ve become heavy smokers. Smoky’s Cat side is sophisticated and used the Underwater Cigarette blueprint to make Underwater Marijuana. Land Horse side did the marketing and distribution. Meth Grinder Monkey was the muscle. Smokey then hired sharks to loan money, and they became the toughest Gang in the sea. They’re called ‘The Red Hats.’ So when Smoky heard from fellow Fish Cat Connie, he swam to her rescue! This picture is Smoky arriving and comforting Connie as the Piranha Ghost Gang leader gets in Horse side’s face and laughs at their sissy hat. Meth Monkey side takes over and starts chopping up the leader exactly as they did at ‘Chewy’s Piranha Tacos,’ where his whole gang became ghosts. This was triggering, and his gang all swam away. Hurray! Smoky and Connie Catfish started making out and are back together. These two love cats celebrated by going to a romantic dinner at... Chewy’s Piranha Tacos.”

“The Green Devil watches a lot of reality TV dating shows. He sadly ruined his, after crashing his hand through it to grab a contestant he fell for. He laughed, then sobbed until a knock on his door. It’s his sexy, frog neighbor, Frogene. She’s buzzed and started snuggling on his arm! She loves to tease him and staggers while off blowing him kisses. He’s in love with her and learned from the dating shows to focus on what she likes. She mentioned she likes Hawaii, werewolves, and funny men. So Green Devil got creative and made a Hawaiian live baby werewolf dress. He went to show her and she loved it. I’ll be with you she said, but you’ll have to follow my spiritual leader, The Horn Eyed Horney Toad of Peace. He’s more of a cult leading sex guru, that believes Elvis has been reincarnated in him. Don’t tell him his Elvis wig looks fake or his security will beat you, or if you’re attractive, he may take you to his love dungeon. He loves to dance and sing Elvis tunes to his followers, even while battling several sexual complaints and lawsuits. Green Devil agreed to join. Forgene then said the robo green furor also loves her, so he’ll have to fight him for her love. He’s a robotics scientist with failing organs. He survive after being decapitated in war by building himself a green, long torso, metal body with an oxygen chamber that now houses his functioning severed head. He’s a screaming political extremist TV pundit and is wearing a beige skirt to also make Frogene laugh. Since they are both wearing skirts, they hired help to battle for them. Green Devil hired the robo-girl and santa claus mountain duo! It’s equipped with ray guns and the insane giggle of the robo-girl and Santa’s constant, Ho, Ho, Ho’s are menacing. Green Furor was nervous so he hired the Aztec sea helmet tank! Double machine guns, and missiles with sharp teeth and a record player that only plays heavy metal. Battles about to start! Horny Toad interrupted and said an oddly, sexy, solemn prayer of peace and announced he was now, ‘The Peace Frog.’ He was ignored and Baby Werewolf looks nervous! Suddenly, Frogene yells, ‘Stop, I was never going to be with either of you! I was put up to this by my Lord and Savior PeaceFrog for his sick, perverted, sexual gratification! He can’t perform, unless there’s some weird sick game! Look at him, his testicles are swelling as we speak!’ Everyone was really upset and are going to kill Horny Peace Frog as he sat disturbingly quiet in prayer. Suddenly, he sang Elvis, ‘Are you lonesome, tonight’ and everyone swooned and some sobbed. They all forgot their anger and are all still members of the Horny Peace Frog Sex Cult.”

“All Hail the WaspKing! He’s mostly human, but has yellow skin and a wasp coming out of his face. He, through an arranged marriage, married the Queen of Flies. This joins their 2 armies in case a bird invades. She’s 100% fly and human sized. She’s taken many etiquette and human English classes in preparation for this matrimony. Unfortunately, things aren’t going well. She lives in the WaspKing’s castle and is very unhappy. She hears the vicious whispers of maggot children and of her terrible breath. The Queen then tried to ingratiate herself by wearing a wasp cap and said she was part wasp. To no avail. More whispers came saying she was crazy and dance’s erratically at every window. It’s described as a frantic, bumping and buzzing. She angrily started to wear the same outfit as the King in order to remind everyone her status. WaspKing was grossed out by her and is one of the whisperers. Today he found her under the peasant outhouse feasting on a mound of their excrement, again! She says buzzingly, in soiled, identical clothing , ‘It’s my favorite and the only thing that is making me happy!’ She sobs as she’s sent back to etiquette class. At dinner, the king was pleased to see they had new entertainment. A beautiful Cuban dancer on a small round wooden stage. She wore a dress identical to the King and Queen’s clothing, an outfit that included their faces. He was mesmerized by her. Not even the smelly Queen, hopping on guest plates and creepily staring at them, while frantically rubbing her hands, could phase him. The dancer sauntered to the King and put a fun, ruffled clown hat, with her face on it on him. Everyone gasped, until the unhappy King burst it into laughter. Everyone cheered! Oh, no, a drunken Wasp Guard has stung the dancer in the head, twice! She was sent to the witch doctor, Hazel. The bumps have grown into wasp nest! The King asked her how she is and she replied sarcastically, ‘Oh great, more round mounds on me for drunks to pinch!’ They both laughed, and the King was in love. He needed a human. Oh no, the Fly Queen has collapsed while doing her ‘Bump and Buzz’ dance at the window! Witch Hazel said, ‘She’s dead!’ The King said he asked her eat better. She replied, her diet was good and she lived a full life. Flies only live around 30 days. She was solemnly buried next to her favorite outhouse. The King soon married on a beautiful Cuban beach, where everyone honored the Fly Queen by dancing the ‘Bump and Buzz.’

(Tiny mourners of the Fly Queen are still known to visit this Portrait)”
